KNUDSON DRIVES TO VICTORY

(AP Wirephoto)

The International trophy for individual honors in the Canada Cup tournament is on its way to Canada today for the first time in 12 years. George Knudson, a 29-year-old Winnipeg native, defeated Japan's Hideyo Sugimoto on the second hole of a sudden death playoff round for individual honors, while the United States team of Jack Nicklaus and Arnold Palmer fired a 28 under par 548 for the 72 hole match to win the Cup.

Jews, Arabs Fight Again After Attack By Guerillas

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli forces attacked three Jordanian villages and clashed sharply with Jordanian ground and air forces Sunday in what Premier Levi Eshkol of Israel said was a "warning raid" against guerrilla attacks from Israel's Arab neighbors.

Shooting also erupted again across the Israeli-Syrian border. Both Jordan and Israel claimed they inflicted heavy losses. UN observers obtained a ceasefire about four hours after the tank-led Israeli forces swept two miles across Jordan's border. The Israeli troops withdrew. Eshkol said the attack was a "warning raid" against Jordanian centres he charged were used by El Fatah commandos as bases for sabotage inside Israel. Israel claims the El Fatah raiders are Jordanians acting under Syrian instigation.

Israel made an aerial attack last July on Syrian installation in retaliation for El Fatah sabotage, but the terrorist raids have continued. Three Israeli soldiers and an army commander were killed and six were wounded Saturday when their car hit a land mine in the area of Sunday's raid.

Pipeline Route Through U.S. Cheaper Says Line President

TORONTO (CP) — Building a proposed new west-east natural gas pipeline south of the Great Lakes instead of through Northern Ontario will save Canadian gas consumers $75,000,000 in 10 years, James W. Kerr, president of Trans-Canada Pipe Lines Ltd., said today.

He told the Canadian Club of Toronto that if his company abandoned its plan for a new pipeline through the Great Lakes it would have "great difficulty" in competing with gas from U.S. sources in eastern Canadian markets. "Many U.S. pipelines are extremely anxious to capture the Ontario and Quebec markets," he said.

"If we ever did lose the large market in southern Ontario where we sell 80 per cent of the gas that moves through Northern Ontario, our volume would not be large enough to justify large-diameter pipelining."

Time Bomb Kills Seamen

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — A tanker, with its captain and a motorman dead and seven other crewmen injured from a time bomb explosion, anchored today off Astoria, Ore., where a search was made for other bombs.

The 535-foot Liberian vessel, the Grand Integrity, was off the Oregon coast Sunday, headed to South Korea from Longview, Wash., when the bomb which killed the captain, Ho Lien-Siu, and the motorman, Chiu Yung-jye, exploded.

The Coast Guard said it had reports from the tanker that the bomb which killed the two men was found in the engine room and the captain had it carried on deck and was photographing it when it exploded.

Plans for the proposed line south of the Great Lakes were vetoed by the federal cabinet in August, but later approved after Trans-Canada promised that the existing Northern Ontario line would remain the main one and that a twin line through the north would be started in 1970. The proposal now is being considered by U.S. government officials.

Mr. Kerr said building the Great Lakes line would not affect gas supplies in Northern Ontario. It would actually result in making more gas available in the north, since supplies for southern Ontario could be carried partly south of the Great Lakes.

ELECTION TIME MOVED AHEAD

The Chief Loses The First Round

OTTAWA (CP) — The anti-Diefenbaker faction in the Conservative party won a smashing victory Sunday night that may signal the approaching end of the 11th Hon. John G. Diefenbaker as party leader.

On the surface, the victory appeared to be only a procedural one. But in effect it was the first successful step after three abortive revolts against Mr. Diefenbaker, toward a leadership convention.

Even before the convention proper opened today, many delegates were asking each other how soon can a leadership convention be called?

Diefenbaker, 71, and party leader since 1956, survived a cabinet rebellion in 1963 and a national executive insurance last year.

Mr. Diefenbaker told reporters that the Tuesday afternoon election of officers will make it awkward for MPs to participate because they had a duty to attend the Commons.

The change in agenda means that the some 1,200 delegates will vote by secret ballot on the presidency before the usual vote of confidence in the leader.

It remains to be decided whether the vote on the leadership will be by secret ballot or as in the past, by a standing vote. At the 1964 convention, a move for a secret ballot on the leadership was overwhelmingly defeated.

WHEN JIM QUIT TIPLING WE ALL SAVED A LITTLE

VANCOUVER (CP) — The Canadian government saved money when an army cook stopped drinking, a delegate told the British Columbia-Yukon Assembly of Alcoholics Anonymous Sunday.

"I was an army cook and I remember I sold a restaurant 500 pounds of good army coffee one night when I was thirsty," said the delegate, identified only as Jim and still a member of the armed services.

"The department of national defence saved a lot of money when I quit drinking."

Arizona Slayer Got His Wish

MESA, Ariz. (AP) — A quiet young man who felt nobody cared for him was under psychiatric care today, after the pistol killing of four women and a little girl because he "wanted to see the headlines with my name in them before I die."

Robert Benjamin Smith, 18, who told police his violent outburst Saturday morning in a local beauty college was inspired by recent mass killings in Chicago and Austin, Tex., remained in county jail awaiting psychiatric study and treatment before his Dec. 15 preliminary hearing on five counts of murder.

Police continued to fill in missing pieces of the youth's bizarre explanation for the slaying of strangers.

Police said Smith, described by schoolmates as "a loner" and a "strange and different" boy, offered no resistance when police burst into the shop. Told of his rights to remain silent, officers said the youth nonetheless gave a lengthy statement.

He said in the statement: —He had planned for three months, since his parents gave him a target pistol, to commit a mass murder. He had "cared" several likely looking places, and selected the beauty college because there would be more people there.

—He got the idea from the slaying of eight students in Chicago and the sniper killings in Austin which left 16 dead.

—He wanted to kill about 40 people, and wanted to die himself.

—And the reason for it all: "I wanted to get known ... to get myself a name ... to see the headlines with my name in them before I die."

Supply Debate Goes On Today But Without Big Tory Axe

OTTAWA (CP) — A debate that began Nov. 1 with the minority Liberal government's request for authority to spend $372,000,000 on November bills continues in the Commons today.

He came out on the offensive as expected against a group within the party seeking a reassessment of his leadership. And he warned that Liberals want a Conservative party "frozen in reaction."

"The eyes of the Liberal party are upon us," Mr. Diefenbaker told members of the Progressive Conservative Association of Canada.

"You'd be amazed the interest there is."

He said Liberals were looking for a return to the days of 39 or 40 Conservative MPs in the House of Commons.

Mr. Diefenbaker joined other delegates during the morning in registering for the three-day meeting of the party's national association.

A supply debate usually is an opportunity for the opposition to pressure the government into meeting a demand.

Inflatable Army Hospital Passes Test In The Field

TAY NINH (AP) — The world's only inflatable combat hospital has received a bloody baptism of fire in the jungles of South Viet Nam.

The $2,000,000 hospital was trucked into a site 30 miles northeast of Saigon near the Cambodian border.

Before the rubber-like building could be blown up and put into operation, the Viet Cong nearly destroyed the entire hospital with a mortar attack that killed the hospital commandant, tore gaping holes in the roof of the unoccupied nurses' quarters and ripped one of the inflatable ward units with more than 100 holes.

Despite the initial mortar attack and another one less than a week later, the self-contained, completely mobile hospital immediately went into operation as a forward surgical clinic with most of its facilities still in packing crates.

$4.5 Million In Fund As Workers Walk Out

MONTREAL (CP) — Only a few Air Canada planes were still in the air Monday as 5,200 machinists walked off their jobs and set up picket lines against the nation's largest airline at 1 p.m. Kelowna time.

Most Canadian flights were expected to be terminated before the strike deadline. One flight from Paris, delayed by mechanical trouble, is expected at Dorval between 7 and 8 p.m. and will be handled by supervisory personnel.

LAY OFF SOME WORKERS

An Air Canada spokesman said some 4,000 other unionized airline employees, including pilots, stewardesses and ticket agents, will be laid off without pay when the strike begins.

Only clerical staff and supervisory personnel will be left on the job and will keep ticket offices open to help customers make other travel arrangements.

The work stoppage by the members of the International Association of Machinists, grounding the nation's largest airline, will stop what is estimated to be 80 per cent of Canada's civil air transport facilities. Air Canada's domestic and international services are involved.

The machinists are seeking higher pay and other work improvements. The chief mediator in the dispute was dismissed Sunday by the union.

As negotiations fizzled in Montreal during the weekend, the two sides seemed far apart and there were indications of a long strike.

The walkout comes at a time when Canadians are concerned over a possible walkout by the country's postal workers.

The postal unions have told a government-appointed mediator they will set a strike date Tuesday if a pay dispute is not resolved by then.

Mr. Nicholson sent telegrams to officials of the machinists' associations and Air Canada Sunday night, calling on them to try again for a settlement as a matter of national interest.

Postal Strike Word Wednesday

OTTAWA (CP) — A deadline will be announced Wednesday, not Tuesday, for a wildcat strike of postal workers across the country, a postal union leader said today.

Bill Kay, president of the Canadian Union of Postal Workers, said mediation talks with Mr. Justice Andre Montreuil of Montreal likely will continue for at least two more days.

"If we're not successful between now and then we'll set a strike date Wednesday," he told reporters after a morning session with the mediator.

Earlier reports said the strike deadline would be announced Tuesday, the date announced two weeks ago for such action.

Further talks between the mediator and union negotiators were scheduled this afternoon. The unions are demanding a pay increase of 20 per cent immediately and a further 10 per cent next year. The civil service commission has offered an interim increase of six per cent for the 20,000 post office workers.

Litterbugs In Outer Space Complete Photo Assignment

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Spacewalk champion Edwin E. (Buzz) Aldrin Jr. thrust head and shoulders out a Gemini 12 door today and coolly clicked pictures of the sunrise, Milky Way and earth—the last adventure by a U.S. astronaut outside a spaceship until 1968.

The photo session — most of which was performed out of range from earth tracking stations with a minimum of conversation heard on the ground — lasted slightly longer than the 40 minutes originally planned.

"We've got a little leg room here for a change," command pilot James A. Lovell Jr. said, referring to the fact that Aldrin had dumped unneeded equipment overboard while the hatch was open.

"Keep space clean," Mission Control Centre in Houston, Tex., said.

NORAD will have a full keeping track of all those hot and pensive," Lovell quipped. NORAD is the North American Defence Command, which keeps track of all orbiting objects.

The pilots used more fuel than expected during Aldrin's time outside, cutting off plans to remain outside over the United States to photograph targets.

"That was a pretty expensive FA (extra-vehicular activity) in the way of fuel," reported command pilot James A. Lovell Jr.

"We used 20 to 25 per cent." The U.S. Space agency said Aldrin's hatch opened about 9:53 a.m. EST and closed 52 minutes later.

While outside, however, Aldrin successfully photographed stars and terrain features. The "space stand" boosted his record space exposure time to 5½ hours.

The next U.S. walk is not scheduled until 1968 on the fourth manned earth-orbital flight planned in the Apollo man-to-the-moon program.

No Hope Left For Air Victims

MATSUYAMA, Japan (AP) — Authorities gave up all hope today of finding any survivors of the crash of a Japanese-made airliner with 50 aboard into the Inland Sea Sunday night.

Six planes had searched the area in the hope some might have reached land, and 60 boats picked up 21 bodies.

Kiesinger After Majority - Crucial Talks Opening

BONN (Reuters)—Kurt Kiesinger, the ruling Christian Democratic party's choice for chancellor, today began a crucial week of negotiations to gather a government majority.

Outgoing Chancellor Ludwig Erhard joined him on the negotiating team which was to meet the Free Democrats and the opposition Social Democrats during the week.

The Free Democrats triggered the current crisis last month when they walked out of Erhard's coalition government.

The party was today expected to name its terms for a new coalition at a top-level meeting in Nuernberg.

The Social Democrats Sunday laid down an eight-point program of conditions for a coalition. The conditions were so stiff it seemed impossible for the Christian Democrats to accept.

The points included renunciation of West Germany's desire for a share in nuclear armament, contact between officials of East and West Germany and increased efforts toward diplomatic relations with East Europe.

WANT FORCES FREEZE

The Social Democrats said a new government must freeze the current strength of the armed forces as a first step toward East-West disarmament.

The party also insisted the

The reports said the servicemen, from the Strategic Air Command base at Incirlik, near Adana, took refuge in a nearby night club. A crowd gathered and asked that the men be handed over.

Police took the men to a police station for protection. The mob shattered the windows of the police station, then about 50 young persons marched to the U.S. Consulate and damaged American cars on the way.

U.S. Infantrymen Attack After Murderous Barrage

SAIGON (CP)—U.S. infantrymen today hit back against North Vietnamese troops in the central highlands 24 hours after one of the war's thickest mortar barrages was laid on the Americans.

Units of the U.S. 4th and 25th Infantry Divisions, mounting a ground and air counter-attack, had so far killed 76 North Vietnamese and captured two, a U.S. military spokesman said here.

Thirteen of the Communists were killed in two brief skirmishes late Sunday 18 and 12 miles west of the special forces camp at Plei Djereng, 230 miles north of Saigon.

The Americans now claim 355 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong dead in their four-week-old operation Paul Revere IV in the highlands, the spokesman said.

After two weeks of no action, the Communist force resumed its highland offensive Saturday morning between 700 and 700 shells from 60-millimetre and 82-millimetre mortars on 4th Infantry Division units.

B-52 bombers today hammered at North Vietnamese concentrations 16 miles north-west of the Plei Djereng. This was near the area where an estimated 500 North Vietnamese regulars attacked a company (178 men) of the U.S. 25th Division Sunday.

A U.S. spokesman said the infantry company suffered heavy casualties in the initial Communist assault. He said 26 North Vietnamese were killed.

The New China news agency, broadcasting from Hanoi, quoted a South Viet Nam Liberation (Viet Cong) press report which claimed the Viet Cong killed or wounded more than 1,600 U.S. and South Vietnamese troops in Nov. 3 battles in South Vietnam's Tay Ninh province.

American troops Sunday discovered a Viet Cong arms factory which they combed foothill country on South Viet Nam's east coast, 30 miles north of Tuy Hoa.

In the air, American planes carried out strikes Sunday in the demilitarized zone between the two Viet Nams and in the southern coastal region of North Viet Nam.

Units of the U.S. 1st Division reported capturing 27 Viet Cong Sunday in scattered skirmishes in war zone C during Operation Attleboro.

While contact was tight in this operation 65 miles northwest of Saigon, the Americans uncovered 389 tons of rice 15 miles east of Tay Ninh city. This brought to 1,486 tons the amount of rice seized in the month-long operation, making it one of the largest hauls of the war.

A U.S. spokesman described as staggering the amount of weapons, grenades, explosives and other material seized during the operation.

Headquarters reported that the Viet Cong overran a South Vietnamese outpost 34 miles southwest of Saigon today. The outpost was defended by about 30 men.

Headquarters also reported two mine attacks. In one, the Viet Cong mined a train heading from Bien Hoa to Saigon, derailing the locomotive and three cars.

Prospectors Claim Find Of Meteor

SALMON ARM (CP)—Two prospectors have reported finding what they think is the meteorite that hit up much of the Interior of B.C. March 17, 1964.

J. A. Reid and George Newman, both of Seymour Arm, about 50 miles north of here, said they came upon the meteorite near Ratchford Creek, about 15 miles from Seymour Arm.

At the time the meteorite fell, it was believed to have landed in the Shuswap area. Mr. Reid said Saturday but added:

"There is no doubt that this is the meteorite that hit up much of the Interior 2½ years ago."

He said it is identical to photographs he received from the federal government's geological survey department at Vancouver.

IMPERIAL SCALP CLINICS OF VICTORIA

Victoria Seeks College Details

Okanagan Regional College president Norman Walker makes his third trip to Victoria in as many weeks today to discuss proposed college plans with provincial education officials.

His trip forces cancellation of the regular meeting of the college council scheduled for this evening. The council is awaiting government approval of the plans before it proceeds with arrangements for a referendum.

President Walker and council chairman Frank Venables first presented the proposed plans in Victoria at the end of October. The president, accompanied by architectural advisor Byron Olson, held further talks with department of education officials early last week.

Today's trip was apparently requested by the department which is scrutinizing the proposed plans prior to approval. Total cost of the project is estimated at about $10,874,000 to be shared by the provincial and federal governments and ratepayers in the area to be served by the college.

Officials were hoping referenda for the community shares could be presented Dec. 10 with government approval being given by order-in-council at the end of this week.

Details of the trips were expected to be given at the next council meeting, tentatively scheduled for Nov. 22. Announcement of the decision on the referendum could come soon.

Approximately 30 per cent of the total cost would likely have to be approved by referenda. This figure would be divided among the nine school districts to be served by the college.

The plebiscite, which was held in April, 1965, and which was approved by all districts with the exception of Penitence, was not a money vote. It was an expression of support for the idea of a regional college.

Although not currently included in the districts comprising the college area, there has been some indication the Penitence district could hold another plebiscite.

Only $6,000 Still Needed

United Appeal chairman R. J. Stranks is cheerfully confident of success today, as the Kelowna and District campaign nears its goal.

The United Appeal campaign has collected $46,436 by today, only $6,000 short of its $52,500 goal.

Mr. Stranks says its "certainty" the campaign will reach its quota when all canvassing has been finished and the returns turn in.

The campaign officially ended two weeks ago, but canvassing in some areas was not complete and not all canvassers have turned in their returns for tabulation.

Teen 'Slaves' Ready Again

Residents of Kelowna and district can save up those odd jobs they have to do this week and pass them off on a "slave" Saturday during another Teen Town Slave Day.

Club members will be hiring themselves out for any household or other duty as part of their November March of Dimes campaign which already stands at more than $800.

Slaves who will undertake such tasks as car washing, floor scrubbing or yard raking, can be obtained by phoning Regatta Headquarters.

The Busy Teen Towners have also planned a fashion show Sunday and Monday evenings at the Capri Motor Hotel from 7:30 to 9:30.

Polling Result Goes To Council

Results of a poll of Kelowna merchants, regarding Christmas store hours, will be presented to the city council tonight for approval.

Rec Turvey, president of the Kelowna Retailers' Association, said today results of the questionnaire have been compiled and will be presented for city council approval tonight.

The ballot asked merchants if they were in favor of keeping stores open Dec. 17 and Dec. 22 until 9 p.m. and Dec. 21 (Wednesday) until 6 p.m.

Most Highways Bare And Wet

Most B.C. roads are clear and wet today, with snow reported on both the Allison and Rogers passes.

The Rogers Pass, from 10 miles west of Revelstoke to Albert Canyon, has nine inches of snow. East of Albert Canyon there is four inches. The Allison Pass has compact snow, with sanding being carried out. Apart from the snow, the Hope-Fraser highway is bare and wet.

Debby Gunn City Policemen Still Waiting

The hit-and-run driver, who struck an 11-year-old girl in a Bernard Ave. crosswalk Nov. 4, is still at large.

During the 10-day period since the accident police have checked several leads and at least one is still under investigation.

The victim, Debby Gunn of Okanagan Centre, faces a month's stay in the Kelowna General Hospital, where she is recovering from a broken pelvis, a broken arm and a bruised shoulder.

Last week Debby told her mother, Mrs. Ronald Gunn, that she is praying for the driver, that he will give himself up and not live all his life with the accident on his conscience.

To date, either her message has not reached the driver or he prefers to ignore her drive.

The car was reported to be a 1965 Mustang. The same afternoon a white Mustang was reported near the liquor store with a dent in the front end.

Friday a call at 1:25 a.m. informed police that a Rutland man, who had been driving a white Corvair before the accident, had stopped using his car and had changed to another make.

A district service station reported a car with front end damage had just left its station, and the same day, Nov. 10, a white Corvair was reported abandoned in bush near Winfield.

The police investigated every report received, but none of the investigations led to anything. The service station report is still under investigation as the driver has not yet been identified.

The RCMP have asked all detachments and auto body shops to be on the alert for a light-colored car with front end damage.

"Our investigation is continuing," a police officer said today. He would not hazard a guess as to the chances of the driver giving himself up.

GOOD NIGHT

Hospital authorities said today Debby had a good night Sunday and her condition is satisfactory.

The leads checked by police started the day after the accident. A call at 8:15 a.m. Nov. 5, sent police looking for a white car reported on Richter St. being driven in a wild manner.

Five Motorists Injured In Weekend Accidents

Five people were injured Sunday in car accidents reported in the district.

Two Kelowna women were injured in an accident near Princeton reported at 8:30 a.m. today.

T. B. Upton of Okanagan Mission told police his wife and daughter were treated at a Princeton hospital and released. No further details were available.

Three people were taken by ambulance to the Kelowna General Hospital Sunday following an accident at 10:25 a.m. on Highway 97 near Winfield.

Drivers in the two-car collision were Robert Perkins, 44, of Woodside Rd., at 2:40 p.m. Sunday. The car rolled down a 30-foot embankment to a lower road and came to rest on its wheels, police said.

Mrs. Morris' son was taken to the Kelowna General Hospital with cuts. Damage was estimated at $750. At 2:05 p.m. on Highway 97 about two miles south of Westbank, a car driven by Verna Madge Langevine of Oliver, slipped off the pavement and rolled over on its top.

Langevine suffered cuts on her face. Damage was estimated at about $1,000.

No injuries were reported in an accident on Highway 97 at 1:45 p.m., four miles south of the Okanagan Lake bridge. Police said a car driven by Luana Liston of Peachland, went out of control and struck a utility pole. Damage was estimated at $100 to the car. The pole was sheared off, police said.

A break-in was reported to police at 7:35 a.m. today, of the Husky bulk station on Highway 97, about one-half mile north of the city. Entry was gained through a small window in a service door. A cigarette machine was broken into and a quantity of cigarettes taken. Police say some tires may also have been taken.

White Cross Gift Committee Helps Make Yule Brighter

To be sick and lonely is hard at any time, but the feeling seems to be magnified at Christmas.

Many in Kelowna know this feeling and the White Cross gift committee of the Kelowna Branch of the Canadian Mental Health Association is again attempting to help.

Anyone can help by simply adding an inexpensive gift to his Christmas shopping list and turning it in to the White Cross Centre, at 390 Queensway.

Gifts and donations should be in by the end of this month and do not have to be wrapped. Volunteers will distribute them at two Christmas parties during December.

The first party will be held for mental patients in hospital Dec. 17 while the second will be held for afternoon patients at the White Cross Centre.

Gifts could include such things as cigarettes, lighters, notebooks and pens. Articles of clothing for men, while women appreciate such items as blouses, scarves, and nylon stockings.

A spokesman for the Kelowna branch, which today announced a $100 donation for the provision of a projector for the hospital psychiatric ward, said the annual request for gifts is not just a sentimental gesture.

"It has a real affect on patient attitude and improvement," she said.

Muscular Dystrophy Drive Lasts Until Month's End

Some 75 collection boxes have been distributed to stores, service stations, barber shops, beauty salons to raise funds to help combat muscular dystrophy.

A week-long march for muscular dystrophy ended in Kelowna and district Sunday, but collection boxes will be on display until the end of the month.

This year, for the first time, the muscular dystrophy campaign to raise funds was extended to Kelowna and Okanagan Mission, Len Wegeltinger, campaign chairman, said today.

The campaign is conducted by the Okanagan Valley Fire Fighters, Local 953, Kelowna Fire Hall. In addition, firemen in Okanagan Mission are organizing a campaign.

A dog-to-dog canvasser is not made during the campaign and there is no goal. The money raised is used to finance research on muscular dystrophy.

The disease, which destroys the voluntary muscles, has its worst effects among children. Progressive paralysis results and severely limits a child's life expectancy.

Mr. Wegeltinger said the campaign was organized by the Kelowna Fire Fighters, Local 953, and the Kelowna Mission Fire Fighters, Local 953.

German Democracy Is Facing First Test

West Germany is in the midst of a political crisis which may or may not be solved by the resignation of Chancellor Erhard.

The unchanging coalition between the Christian Democrats and the Free Democrats that has dominated the country since postwar democratic rule began became not merely static but palsied under the easy-going Dr. Erhard. This is a common symptom of a party that has been in office long enough to be tired. To do him justice, this was more the fault of rivalries within and between the two coalition parties than of Dr. Erhard's good naturedness and distaste for autocracy on the one hand or back-stabbing intrigue on the other.

Dr. Adenauer, like the wicked god-mother, put the fatal curse on Dr. Erhard by repeatedly saying in public that he was no good and by intriguing with his enemies against him. Dr. Erhard's mistake was to tolerate this. Now, the new Germany's democracy may well be on trial.

Dr. Erhard's resignation is a tragic end to the political career of a man to whom West Germany owes much. As finance minister under Chancellor Adenauer he had considerable to do with his country's spectacular recovery. West Germany's freedom from the massive defence costs borne by her conquerors had something to do with this, but a contributory factor was Dr. Erhard's own vigorous economic policy, and particularly his advocacy of the low-tariff program which meant that Germany's emerging industries grew up not in a heavily protected environment but in a broadly competitive one.

If Dr. Erhard had received more co-operation from his own party and its oddly assorted partners, he would probably have managed to cure the economic ills which have provided the main pretext for the attempts to remove him. When he hands over the chancellorship, and if his successor, Kurt Kiesinger, fails to do better, and to do this he must have better treatment from his colleagues—then postwar German democracy points up the whole trend in Western Europe towards socialism. West German Social Democrats could conceivably be in the government, for the first time, in a matter of weeks. The Italian Socialists, already partners in coalition, are now reunited and all set for government leadership. In France, the socialists are still confused and divided; but even there the Federation of the Left has been making some precarious progress towards gathering together an anti-Gaullist coalition that might one day develop real substance.

The long flowering of Christian Democracy after the war was fostered partly by the threat of communism within and without. Its religious background gave it a special claim to be the guardian of the western cultural heritage and the champion of internationalism. Its economic policies were mostly right for a Europe struggling out of the ruins of war. The shift, such as it is, toward a moderate form of socialism has coincided with a loosening of the Communist empire in Eastern Europe.

History Of The Apple

The original home of the apple is not definitely known. It is most indigenous to the region south of the Caucasus, from the Persian province Gilan on the Caspian Sea to Trebizond of the Black Sea. From prehistoric times it has existed in Europe, both wild and cultivated, over an area extending from the Caspian Sea to the Atlantic Ocean except in the extreme north.

The Stone Age dwellers of central Europe used apples extensively. Remains found in their habitations show that they not only stored fresh apples for eating but also preserved them by cutting and drying in the sun. Long before the beginning of recorded history, apples had spread across Europe.

The apples of today are far different than those prehistoric men found in roaming the woods of western Asia and temperate Europe. Judging by kinds found wild today, the apples then were acid, astringent and one to two inches in diameter.

The improvement of the apple through the selection of the best types of the wild seedlings goes far back to the very beginning of history. Methods of budding and grafting fruits were known more than 2,000 years ago. Cato (third century B.C.) knew seven different apple varieties. Pliny (first century A.D.) knew 36 different kinds. By the time the first settlers from Europe were coming to the shores of North America, hundreds of apple varieties had been named in European countries.

The superior varieties grown in Europe in the 17th century had, so far as is known, all developed as chance seedlings, but gardeners had selected the best of the seedling trees and propagated them vegetatively. The early Canadian settlers, particularly those from the temperate portions of Europe, who came to the eastern coast, brought with them seeds and in some cases grafted trees of European varieties. Within a few years after the first settlements were made in the temperate portions of North America, bearing apple trees were reported.

From this start, apples were rapidly disseminated. The apple was apparently carried by Indians, traders and missionaries into the wilderness far beyond the white settlements. The McIntosh apple is a part of the history of Canada. To understand this one must go back to early settlement days. Towards the end of the 18th century, John McIntosh, migrated to Canada. About 1811 he found 20 wild apple seedlings on land granted to him at Dundas, Ontario. One he recognized as strikingly superior in all respects. Authorities believe it grew from seeds planted by an earlier settler from Lower Canada. Propagation from this tree has resulted in millions of McIntosh trees spread throughout the world, every one a direct descendant of that original discovery.

Bygone Days

10 YEARS AGO
November 1956

The East Kelowna Women's Institute at their monthly meeting, presided over by Mrs. C. Ross, voted to support a resolution requesting the Postmaster-General to issue a postage stamp in 1957 honoring Mrs. Adelaide Hoodless, and the founding of the Women's Institute organization.

20 YEARS AGO
November 1946

The old Westbury Hotel at Okanagan Centre was destroyed by fire, built by H. Gleed and his sister, Miss Gleed (now Mrs. Rheam) in 1907, it was a three-story building, and the scene of many a dance in the early days. Lack of hose long enough to reach from the packing house to the burning building prevented an effort to save it.

30 YEARS AGO
November 1936

Mrs. Ernest Simpson obtained a speedy divorce from her husband, something rare in a British court. It took a hearing of only 11 minutes. Her husband, said to be a Canadian, was educated at Harvard. He served in a Guards regiment in the war. He became a stockbroker.

"HERESY - OFF WITH HIS HEAD"

Here's Russian Sans Popularity

MOSCOW (CP) — Somewhere in the great, amorphous bureaucracy that forms the administrative arm of the Soviet government, there is an official who has a lot to answer for to Soviet motorists.

He's the man who thought up the system of gasoline coupons. The reason he has a lot to answer for is that gasoline coupons are a monumental nuisance.

They were introduced on a compulsory basis last year. Theoretically, sale of gas for money was to stop. The motorist bought books of coupons in advance, usually in denominations of five or 10 litres, and paid these over to the filling station attendant instead of cash.

The new regulation was said to be aimed at preventing "speculation" in gasoline. Through the use of numbered coupons, closer check could be maintained on the amount of gasoline paid for and distributed.

Critics, however, pointed out that if anything, the coupon system broadened the scope for illicit merchandising.

NOT ALLOWED REFUND

A motorist is not entitled to a refund on the unused portion of a coupon. If he has paid for 40 litres, and his tank only takes 36 litres, the attendant theoretically has four litres with which to "speculate."

It soon became apparent that a number of stations had decided, willy nilly, to go on accepting cash as they had been used to. It was simpler that way. No doubt, during slack periods, the pump operators made the necessary coupon transfers from one hand to the other.

Some continued to accept money even after coupon distribution was taken out of their hands and transferred to stores, specially designated for the purpose. The protests and the appeals from coupon-less motorists were too strong to resist. Authorities came to realize that the new law was an administrative monstrosity. Now, there are places where you can buy gasoline for cash — officially. In Moscow, there are said to be 10 such places. Trouble is, you don't know where to begin looking for them.

CAJOLERY WORKS

Similarly on the highways. A motorist recently recounted the following exchange that took place when he stopped during a trip to buy gasoline for cash. "We give petrol only for coupons," said the pump operator. "What is the situation at the next station?"

"I don't know."

Sometimes, if you don't have coupons, cajolery will work. But before attempting either cajolery or argument, it pays to get yourself into a strong position.

TO YOUR GOOD HEALTH

Doctor Answers Diabetes Query

By DR. JOSEPH G. MOLNER

Dear Dr. Molner: Please answer these questions about diabetes:

1—After you start taking diabetes pills is there a chance of being able to stop them?

2—What is the difference between "high blood sugar" and "sugar in the urine?" Which is worse?

3—Does scratching (itching) go with diabetes?

4—Does diabetes affect vision? Seeing double, blur, etc.?

5—Does diabetes make you get real exhausted all at once?

6—Is it possible to have high blood sugar and not sugar in the urine?

You can guess that I have just learned that I have diabetes and have been put on four pills a day. MRS. L.K.

1—Sometimes it is possible to stop taking pills later, but usually not. In some instances, insulin is necessary if the pills fail to control the diabetes.

2 and 6—Diabetes results when the body cannot use sugar properly. (The insulin produced by the pancreas is insufficient for body needs.) As the amount of sugar "piles up" in the blood, that's high blood sugar. At still higher levels, sugar "spills over" through the kidneys and then appears in the urine. With proper diet, usually aided by medication, you may keep the excess sugar level low enough so it appears in the blood but not in the urine. Indeed, more cases of diabetes are discovered by blood tests even though sugar has not yet appeared in the urine.

3—Yes, pruritus (itching) can be a symptom of diabetes. It is especially common in the female genital area. Controlling the disease helps subside the itching.

4—Diabetes may cause thickening of the lens of the eye, which may cause visual symptoms such as you describe, triggered by variations in the blood sugar level—high to low, etc. This changes the sugar content of the eye fluid.

5—Fatigue can be a symptom of untreated diabetes. Low blood sugar also can produce a sense of exhaustion or sudden weariness. This can result from taking too much insulin (or too large a dose of pills), and is but one of many reasons why insulin (or diabetes pills) should be carefully regulated in quantity, and kept in correct relationship to the amount of food you eat and the amount of energy you use up in exercise.

Dear Dr. Molner: My husband, who is 45, has diabetes marks along his buttocks. I thought only pregnant women got these marks. What causes them?—B.S.

Stretch marks result when the tissues at the surface of the body are stretched too much and too rapidly, beyond the limits of their elasticity or "stretchability." It depends both on the stretching and the ability of the tissues to stretch without breaking, which varies from person to person. Women are more likely to get such marks because of the rapid stretching of the skin in pregnancy, but it can happen to both sexes. The marks fade in color but there is no way to get rid of them. They are, essentially, scars.

Note to Mrs. V.L.: Alcohol can push some unstable people off balance. True, being a teetotaler and being an alcoholic are two different things. But a borderline psychopath with a record of repeated trouble with the law should certainly never touch liquor. If he does, that's a matter for the law, not for a doctor.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

'GOING TOO FAR'

Dear Sir: Three cheers for the arch-deacon. He has parents upset again and I am sure this is what he set out to do.

I am sick and tired of having our children called down and pulled apart. Several weeks ago it was teenagers. As my oldest child is just 10 I didn't feel it was my job to speak up. However, when he can go so far as to say we are teaching our children to be juvenile delinquents when we let them go out "trick or treating" is going too far. I trust his children were denied this privilege.

For every child who goes wrong, be they teen-ager or not, there are 100 who do not. What is wrong with you that you always look to the dark side of things?

Face up to facts. Look what Teen Town is doing for the March of Dimes. Have you checked into the work the local car clubs do at blood donor clinics and on election day, or what they do for the children at Sunnyvale?

What about the Brownies, Cubs and Scouts who collect for UNICEF? Closer at hand, have you looked on the streets lately and seen the cadets selling poppies? What about the Pathfinders collecting canned goods for needy families?

Please, oh hallowed servant of the cloth, quit looking for the bad. The good is there and you don't have to dig for it. The clubs and groups I have mentioned came easily and quickly to mind. I am sure if I looked I would find many more.

Please parents, stand up and be counted. Stick up for your kids.

Yours truly,
MRS. R. BAIN,
Mother of three.

'DISTORTED VIEWS'

Sir: I was dismayed at such a fantastic distortion of reality as the opinion expressed by Alec C. Beasley (Letters, Oct. 26) that the United States is a warlike, power-hungry nation.

I ask him why, if the U.S. has been so hellbent, it has tried twice in this century to isolate itself. I ask him why, if we go around looking for little nations to manhandle, we have always had to be asked to help or be attacked ourselves before we used our armed strength. I ask him why, if we are so insolent in the use of raw power, we have not gobbled up territory. (The Soviet Union is a striking case of territorial expansion, but Mr. Beasley doesn't talk about that.)

His dubious reasoning brands the United States a war-loving monster. Why doesn't he mention China? Or is she the innocent victim of our horrible ambitions? His letter seems to contain more prejudice than protest.

I think Mr. Beasley should look over, not overlook, past and recent history. Then he might discover the real truth and the real facts.

Sincerely,
DANIEL JOHN SOBIESKI

IT'S A LONG, LONG TIME

QUEBEC (CP) — Roger Molson, 29, a Quebec City thimblehead, was sentenced to a total of 440 years in jail Monday, by sessions judge Albert Dumontier.

Since the sentences will run concurrently, he will serve only 10 years in jail, however.

Molson had pleaded guilty to 14 charges of armed robbery, 31 charges of housebreaking, seven attempted housebreakings, one charge of receiving stolen goods and one charge of public mischief.

OTTAWA REPORT

Most Quebecers 'Don't Want Out'

By PATRICK NICHOLSON

"I believe that the overwhelming majority of Quebecers not only want to remain Canadians, but, once shocked into action, could very well repudiate the acts of those in this province who pretend to speak for Quebec when they threaten to leave Confederation."

That is a Quebecer speaking.

The dialogue between Quebec and our other nine provinces has been predominantly between envious Francophones with a chip on their shoulder and ignorant Anglophones with prejudice in their heart. The consequence has been a paraphrase of Rudyard Kipling's famous lines: "French is French, and the rest is the rest, and never the twain shall meet."

That is why I asked Bryce Mackasey, Liberal MP for Verdun on the Island of Montreal, to describe the Quebec question for readers of this column.

Bryce Mackasey is not a typical Quebecer. He is Irish as the Rose of Tralee, so he cannot be called representative of the 80 per cent of Quebecers of habitant origin. Further, as a prominent MP, he is more perspicacious and better informed than the average Quebecer on this question.

AS FRENCH AS JOHNSON

"But," Bryce said to me, "in view of the fact that I was born in Quebec City and have never left the province, I consider myself as much a Quebecer as, say, the premier of the province, although by accident of birth my mother tongue happens not to be that of the overwhelming majority of Quebecers."

Bryce has become recognized outside his province as an honest advocate for the really important person in Quebec, whom he describes as "not the intellectual, not the demagogue, not the politician, but the little man who, when called upon to exercise his sacred right to vote, inevitably votes for what he feels to be in the best interests of his country and in the best interests of his family."

He rejects the "associate state" concept as merely being separatism in disguise. "Those two associate states would be linked together by a common interest in such matters as the mail and defence, but separated in every other respect. Can we visualize them remaining together for any length of time?" he asked. "Would not the parting of the ways come at once if, for instance, one of the two states became involved in warfare, perhaps through the Commonwealth, perhaps through commitments to the United Nations?"

LONE QUEBEC NOT Viable

As for Separatism, what would Quebecers gain under that, which they are denied under our present system? he pondered. Does not Quebec have complete control of its educational system? Has it not been indicated that, by 1970, all social welfare plans will be in the hands of the province? Does not Quebec now have control of its own legislature, and its civil service?

There are a few remaining injustices, according to Bryce, such as the lack of the right always to work in French. But these can be rectified by exposure.

What puzzles Bryce about those political leaders and agitators in Quebec, who talk of associate state and separatism, is their apparent willingness to forget the existence of 1,000,000 French-Canadians who reside outside Quebec. How could their interests be protected under either of those new systems? Indeed, he wondered, how could the French-Canadian language and culture possibly survive, if separated and isolated within an English-speaking North America?

The one outstanding development which would make all French-Canadians content, Bryce believes, would be the provision of French-language schools in all other parts of Canada, wherever French-Canadians settle.

CANADA'S STORY

Canada Invaded By Secret Group

By BOB BOWMAN

Robert Nelson was one of the leaders of the rebellion in Lower Canada in 1838. Like many of the others, he used the U.S. as a base although President Van Buren had ordered strict neutrality. Nelson understood the American weakness for belonging to secret societies and devised the Brotherhood of Hunters, which became a force-runner of the Ku Klux Klan. The idea behind the Hunters was to gather military strength and financial support for the invasion of Canada. The basic areas were divided into regions, over which was a Grand Eagle. Other officers were Eagles, Beavers, and Snowshoes, each Beaver commanding five Snowshoes. The Hunters caught on like wild-fire and enlisted about 40,000 members including "red" in Canada. There were about 3,000 Hunters in Montreal.

There was a convention at Cleveland, Ohio, in September, 1838, at which Nelson proclaimed a Republican Government of Upper Canada, after consulting W. L. Mackenzie who was also in exile. The plan was to drive a wedge between Upper and Lower Canada by launching attacks from Detroit, Niagara and Ogdensburg. The raids from Detroit and Niagara were only minor affairs, easily repulsed, but the Ogdensburg force landed at Prescott, where there was a four-day battle. The Hunters were led by a Polish immigrant, Von Schultz, who believed that Canadians would be liberated "from the tyranny of Britain". Most of the American volunteers had been told the same idea and promised land in Canada.

Von Schultz was a capable military leader and made over when Grand Eagle Hiram proved to be a coward and stayed in Ogdensburg. He managed to capture a large, stone wall at Prescott and used it as a fort. It took a strong British force from Kingston to defeat the invaders on Nov. 14, 1838. There were 113 men killed in the battle, 76 British and Canadian, 37 Hunters.

Von Schultz and other Hunters were taken to Kingston and put on trial. Although they were defended by a young lawyer, John A. Macdonald, 10 of them were hanged.

Charles Has A Birthday —Now He's On Payroll

LONDON (AP) — Prince Charles, heir to the throne, has been named as the first of a new generation of royal princes to be paid for his services. It was school as usual on his 18th birthday.

Britons openly speculated he would be 50 or older before he reaches the throne. His Mother Queen Elizabeth, is only 40 and in good health.

The young prince's first major state appearance will be his formal investiture as Prince of Wales at Caernarvon Castle. That probably will come next year.

The birthday meant a raise for Prince Charles because he will be taking on more and more royal duties. He has received an unspecified amount of pocket money in the past but now he goes on the payroll at £30,000 ($90,000) a year.

Three left-wing Labor members of Parliament demanded to know how this squared with the wage freeze now in effect.

Spokesmen at Buckingham Palace and the treasury said the prince's new income was revenue from a trust fund and did not come under the wage freeze. Most of it comes from property he inherited as Duke of Cornwall.

UPBRINGING NOT RIGID

Prince Charles was freed at an early age from the ivory towers which sheltered former heirs to the throne and like other boys now is at his father's old school, Gordonstoun, in Scotland.

The tabloid Sunday Mirror suggests that after graduating from a university he might get a job "as well as reading the state papers and mugging up on constitutional history." The Mirror says it has an opening for him anytime.

Sources who are to be trusted say that after attending a British university, not yet announced, Prince Charles probably will go to McGill University in Montreal. The famous Canadian university also has been mentioned in recent newspaper speculation.

He is studying for his A-level examinations next summer which he must pass to go to a British university.

Charles was made Prince of Wales in July, 1958, and compared with the Duke of Windsor, his great-uncle David, is inevitable.

By 18, the previous Prince of Wales was already well known as a playboy.

Although Prince Charles goes to lots of dances and parties, he has no steady girl friend.

Hold-The-Line Policy Asked On General Purposes Taxes

PEACHLAND — Provisional budget for 1967 has been discussed. All councillors now have a copy for study. Reeve Thwaite spoke on the increase in the mill rate for debt purposes, which will be at least two mills more in 1967, and stated his policy will be to hold the line on general purposes mill rate, if possible, to 15 mills.

Mill rate for school costs are an unknown factor, but plans for the regional college could raise this also. This provisional budget will be discussed item by item at the next Council meeting.

Date for the annual ratepayers' stewardship meeting, was set for Dec. 2 at 8 p.m. in the Municipal Hall.

Nominations for the two council seats coming up for election this year, will close Nov. 28. Municipal elections will be held Saturday, Dec. 10, in the Municipal hall. Appointed as returning officer for the election was H. C. MacNeill, with Mrs. G. W. Burns as assistant returning officer.

A By-law to authorize the purchase part of the remainder of Lot 29 Plan 125, Part of Lots 3 and 4 Block 31, Plan 125, Part of Lots 1 and 2, Block 32 Plan 125, and part of Lot 3, Block 33, Plan 125, for the purpose of widening Princeton Ave. were read, reconsidered and finally passed.

Report from government engineers was received, on the enlarging of the Peachland domestic water district. Councilor E. Beet will study this, and report back to council.

Reapproval was given to survey plans submitted by Peachland Irrigation District.

Municipal Clerk H. C. MacNeill informed council that 91 per cent of municipal taxes for '66 has now been paid.

A letter was received from Water Rights Branch, asking for council's intentions as to water right now held, on Trepurrier Creek. The clerk was

Few Condemn Sex Film

TORONTO (CP) — A sex education film, which last week sparked a controversy involving Toronto's board of education and the CBC, was shown on television Sunday night and drew only a ripple of reaction, even from the children who saw it.

The CBC said the phone calls it received were normal, equally divided between complimentary and derogatory.

The film was shown on the CBC public affairs program titled Sunday, and was followed by questions and answers between an interviewer and about 50 Toronto school children, some as young as 10 years old.

"I think it (sex education) is more important than mathematics," said one teen-age boy in the televised discussion period.

Barry Coutts, a board of education trustee who earlier complained the film was too advanced for some of the children, said he saw the sequence Sunday night and had no objections. His daughter was one of the children involved.

A 'New Look' For NATO Proposed By Parliamentarians

PARIS (Reuters) — NATO parliamentarians are expected to draft the broad lines of a new look for the Atlantic Alliance in a five-day conference opening here today.

The conference, which meets annually, plans discussions of possible reforms within NATO following France's withdrawal from its integrated military commands.

The proposals are in a report to be presented by Emyln Hooson, British Liberal member of Parliament.

A major aim of the parliamentarians will be to transform the alliance from a purely military organization into a political community, conference sources said.

The delegates are expected to support two immediate objectives—establishment of an Atlantic Consultative assembly and support for Britain's entry into the European Common Market.

President de Gaulle said last month that permission for overflights would in future be granted on a case-by-case basis. This presented a major problem to the allies, currently flying more than 2,000 aircraft over France every year.

Apart from reforms aimed at streamlining the alliance the parliamentarians are to discuss their dispute over the sharing of nuclear weapons with a view of giving West Germany and other non-nuclear members a voice in Allied nuclear planning.

But there will be no move to give these countries any nuclear "hardware" or a finger on the nuclear trigger, the sources said.

U.S. Customs Change Routine For Canadians

WASHINGTON (CP) — The United States bureau of customs has overhauled its Canadian query program, established in 1956 to help Canadian firms export to the U.S.

In the past, prospective Canadian exporters could ask U.S. customs appraisers for information helpful to their plans. But the role of the appraiser has been abolished and henceforth requests for advice must be sent to the district directors of customs at Ogdensburg, N.Y., Buffalo, Detroit, Pembina, N.D., and Seattle.

Advice includes appraisal of market potential for the Canadian product, duty rates on it and other data.

"This information is secured in advance of the first shipment, thereby preventing possible losses or misunderstandings," says the customs bureau notification of change in procedure.

RED SPARTAN APPLES DEVELOPED IN OKANAGAN

Glamorize Okanagan Apples During National Apple Week

How will your family celebrate National Apple Week? If you're like most Canadians, you'll crunch through a good supply of Canada's favorite fruit and enjoy apples just as you usually do. You'll eat them fresh at snack-time and as you relax by the TV or curl up by the fire with a good book. You'll enjoy pies, puddings, crisps and applesauce as desserts. When you bake you'll feature them in spicy cakes, cookies and muffins. Apples will take their crisp, cool place in salads, too. Or you may serve them chopped as a flavorful ingredient in meat balls and other ground meat dishes.

The week of Nov. 14 has been declared National Apple Week by our Minister of Agriculture. Apple growers, wholesalers and retailers will be co-operating to bring us special displays of apples in the stores. It will be a wonderful chance for Canadians from coast to coast to see what a wide selection of varieties we have from which to choose. Right now B.C.'s Okanagan apples are at their peak. The harvest is bountiful and the quality is top. B.C. McIntosh and the new B.C. Red Spartans, favorite all-purpose apples, continue in good supply. B.C. Red Delicious, the long-time dessert favorite are with us once again in plentiful supply. The characteristic five points on the bottom of the apple assure Delicious fans that there's a lot of good eating in store. They're a particular favorite for dessert uses with those who prefer a "sweet" apple.

B.C. Golden Delicious, gourmet favorite, are available once more to add variety and a distinctive flavor to fruit bowls, cheese trays, and your favorite desserts. Try some for the connoisseur in your family. If you haven't tried these Golden Delicious yet you're in for a real taste treat. Remember, they're great for cooking as well as fresh eating.

SPICY APPLE PUFFS

1 cup water
1 cup sugar
1/2 tsp. vanilla
1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 cup butter or shortening
1/2 cup milk
2 tsp. melted butter
2 tsp. sugar
1/2 tsp. cinnamon
5 cooking apples
Combine sugar and water in saucepan, simmer for 5 minutes. Remove from heat. Add vanilla.

Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt. Cut in butter or shortening to make a coarse meal. Stir in milk to make a soft dough. In a separate bowl combine sugar with butter and spice.

Slice apples into a greased baking pan (9" square). Four hot syrup over apples. Drop dough by spoonfuls into rough mounds on sliced apples, making about nine mounds in all. With spoon make a depression in each drop biscuit and put some of the spice mixture in each. Bake at 425 deg. F. for 30 to 35 minutes or until the apples are tender. Cool slightly, served with whipped or table cream. Note—This dessert is equally good chilled. Approx. 9 servings.

APPLE CRISP TARTS

1 recipe pastry
3 or 4 flavorful apples, sliced
3 tsp. cinnamon
1/2 cup flour
1/4 cup brown sugar
3 tsp. butter
Few grains salt
1/4 tsp. cinnamon
1/4 tsp. nutmeg

Line muffin tins with pastry. Mix sliced apples with sugar and 1/4 tsp. cinnamon. Fill tart shells half full. Blend the flour, sugar, butter, salt and remaining spices together to form a crumbly mixture. Top apples with a layer of this mixture. Bake at 425 deg. F. for 10 minutes. Lower heat to 350 deg. F. and bake for another 25 to 30 minutes. Serve plain or with a small garnish of whipped cream.

WALDORF SALAD MOLD

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 tsp. salt
1 1/2 cups clear Sun-Rype apple juice
1/2 cup vinegar or lemon juice
2 cups diced unpeeled apples
1/2 cup diced celery
1/4 cup chopped walnuts or pecans
Mix gelatin, sugar and salt in small saucepan. Add 1/2 cup of the apple juice. Place over low heat, stir constantly until gelatin is dissolved. Remove from heat and stir in remaining juice, and lemon juice or vinegar. Chill until the consistency of unbeaten egg white. Fold in remaining ingredients. Turn into a 4-cup mold. Chill until set. Turn out on lettuce and garnish with celery curls and apple slice.

Remember to keep apples in mind this week!

Base Your Budget On Your Expenses

TORONTO (CP) — If you base a budget on what you actually spend, rather than on what you think you should spend, you might stand a chance of staying within it. Mary Gordon, a budgeting expert with the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce, suggests beginning by keeping a record for a couple of weeks of where your money goes. Base it on take-home pay and have everyone in the family take part.

Then divide your spending into fixed costs and variables. Fixed will include shelter, utilities, insurance, clothes (for the breadwinner only), time payments, annual vacation, income tax, school fees, Christmas planning. The variables are food, household expenses, family clothes, personal allowances to cover spending money, club dues, gifts.

"Don't be too strict in budgeting, leave room for enough personal allowances."

Friends And Neighbors Honor Two Westbank Bride-Elects

MISS SHARON DROUGHT
A bride of Saturday, Nov. 12, was honored at a delightful shower given earlier this month in Westbank's United Church Hall, when Mrs. W. C. Mackay and Mrs. C. D. McGaw were co-hostesses, honoring bride-elect Miss Sharon Drought.

Symbolizing the work of both bride and groom, the varied gifts were heaped behind the facade of a bank interior, cleverly designed and made gay with flowers and streamers in blue and white, carrying out the color motif of the gowns to be worn by the bride and her attendants, and set off with touches of pink. The color theme was repeated throughout the hall.

On her arrival, when the surprised bride found her guests awaiting her, she was presented with a corsage, as were wedding principals — the bride's mother, Mrs. H. R. Drought, grandmothers, Mrs. A. E. Drought and Mrs. L. A. Hewlett; matron of honor Mrs. Victor Day, the bride's sister, and her small sister, flower girl Jennifer Drought. These corsages, artistically created from garden flowers were the work of Miss Ethel Mackay.

Assisting the guest of honor in opening her many gifts were Mrs. Bay, bridesmaid-elect Miss Cathy Carruthers and Jennifer Drought, while listing them was Miss Sandi Twinn.

The bride, who was born and grew up in Westbank, graduated from George Pringle High School, Kelowna, and following their honeymoon the two will make their home in the Alberta capital.

Following the opening of the gifts, the bride personally thanked each one of the many donors present, and voiced her appreciation to all who made the occasion such a happy one. Later the hostesses, assisted by many friends, served refreshments to the large company.

MISS WENDY HOWES

Another Saturday bride of the west-side was honored at her home, "Windson", on Lakeview Heights, last week, when Miss Wendy Howes was surprised by close friends and former school-fellows who met to present her with varied gifts accompanied by good wishes, at a gathering arranged by Miss Wendy Dobbin, who, with the bride, is a graduate of George Pringle High School in Westbank.

Let to a chair decorated with streamers and flowers in orange and white, the guest of honor was presented with a corsage, as were her mother, Mrs. Philip D. C. Howes, and her youngest sister, Debby, one of her bridesmaids, who also assisted Wendy in opening her gifts. The corsages, made by Mrs. C. D. Dobbin and Miss Lorraine Menn, were in shades of mauve, gold and white.

After voicing her thanks and appreciation for the honor paid to her, the bride and her friends enjoyed a social hour, and later, refreshments were served by Mrs. Howes, Miss Debby Howes and Miss Wendy Dobbin, a shower cake centering the tea-table.

The following day, Tuesday, Miss Howes was the guest of honor at an afternoon tea given by Mrs. Elsie Young and Mrs. J. W. Lee, at the former's home on Lakeview Heights, during which the bride-elect was presented with a variety of lovely gifts.

Miss Howes, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Howes, of Lakeview Heights, became the bride, Saturday, Nov. 12, of David Slaco, at a 7 p.m. ceremony held in St. Michael and All Angels' Church, Kelowna. A reception followed at Capri Motor Inn.

ANN LANDERS

Daughter Resentful At Lack Of Confidence

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a girl 16 years old and a junior in high school. I have one date a week, usually on Saturday night. Sometimes I go out on Friday night, too, if there is something special going on.

My mother has decided that I must fill out a date-form. She wants me to answer about 20 questions. Here are some examples:

- (1) Name of your date, his age, and his address.
- (2) Occupation of his father.
- (3) Where did you go?
- (4) How much money did he spend?
- (5) Did he try to kiss you?
- (6) Did you let him?
- (7) Do you think he will ever amount to anything??
- (8) Would you like your children to look like him?

I think these questions are dumb. Furthermore I resent the whole thing. Will you please tell me if I am a rebellious and headstrong teen-ager, as my mother says, or do I have a right to be buggy?—INSULTED

Dear Insulted: Your mother should know the name of every follow up date because you should have introduced each one. She also should know where you are going for the evening. But the other questions, particularly Number 8, are indeed dumb and I don't blame you for being resentful.

Your mother should stop playing 20 questions and display more confidence in your judgment.

Dear Ann Landers: I am burned up about that ashline letter to Dottie the girl who was asked at 18. Her dear friend who married at 18 wrote to warn her of the dangers of being a teen-age bride.

From the looks of your picture in the paper you can't be more than 40 years old and I happen to know you are a grandmother. So—how old were you when you were married, Ann Landers? And how old was your daughter? Some people find it very easy to give advice to others but they don't follow it in their own lives.

I am enclosing a self-addressed envelope because I know you will never print this letter and I would like an answer.—MIS. R.D.K.

Dear Mrs. R.D.K.: Thank you for the comment, but I'm over 40. Would you believe 42? I was married at 21, after 3 1/2 years at Morningside College. I have since regretted that I didn't stay in college and get my degree. Our daughter was married at 22, after four years at Brandeis University.

P.S.: You are right. It's easier to give advice than to take it.

Confidential to Loused Up Lou Who Needs Words To Live By: At least you know you are housed up, so all is not hopeless. The best words I can give you at the moment are borrowed from W. J. Bechtler. He said, "Most people in trouble are victims of the Mr. Chevious Misses; Miss Understanding, Miss Information, Miss Interpretation, Miss Representation, Miss Conception, and Miss Behavior."

Dear Ann Landers: I am a teenager with a heavy heart. Yesterday a friend told me that my parents had to get married because I was on the way. She said, "It was awfully nice of your father to marry your mother. He could have gotten out of it." I was so shocked and I didn't know what to say. If my mother had told me about this herself I would have felt a lot better. Should I ask her why she kept it from me? Also should I tell my two younger brothers? I don't want to hear about this family disgrace from a friend, like I did. My parents have been married for 15 years and they seem to get along fine. Please give me some advice. I am crushed.—BORN TOO SOON.

Dear Born: Don't ask your mother any questions and don't give your brothers any information. Your "friend" has a very big mouth and her aunt's mouth is even bigger.

I don't feel that your mother should have told you about the circumstances of the marriage, so don't hold her silence against her. The important thing is that your parents get along well today. What happened 15 years ago is nobody's business.

Dear Ann Landers: Recently an acquaintance and I were having a bite of lunch at a counter. We were discussing a small town with a waitress who had visited there recently.

In the middle of the conversation, a pleasant looking, white-haired man seated himself on the stool next to mine. He said, "Pardon me, but did I hear you say Greenville? I've always had a hankering to live there."

He asked some questions about the climate, the people, the cultural advantages and so on. I tried to answer him to the best of my ability.

Suddenly I felt a sharp dig in my side from my lady friend. I glanced at her in surprise. She gave me a dirty look and hissed, "Turn your back on that old fool and talk to ME."

The old gentleman must have heard her because he left without ordering. I was very upset and told her so.

My friend insists the old man was rude to have horned into our conversation, and that I was rude for allowing him to do so. When I look her home she slammed the door in my face and yelled, "Why don't you write to Ann Landers about this?"

So I'm writing. —PUZZLED.

Dear Puzzled: The old gentleman was obviously a friendly type — and probably lonely. I would not describe him as rude.

But your lady friend was rude — and unfeeling and unpleasant and immature and ill-tempered.

Battle of the Bosoms Looming in New York

NEW YORK (AP)—A "topless" barmaid has made the scene at a Greenwich Village night spot, giving a new twist to the topless waitress innovation at an East Side supper club.

The San Francisco craze blossomed here last Wednesday amid a flurry of ignored summonses for the waitresses, clad above the waist only in "pasties," at the Crystal Club.

The summonses charged the girls with an unspecified violation of the city's administrative code.

Friday night the battle of the bra-less took shape at the Village West, where Champagne Cartier, 25, clad in black tights and pasties, passed drinks over the bar. Business was booming.

Miss Cartier, who said she is from Nice, France, is a brunette measuring 40-26-36. She is five feet, seven inches tall.

HEY! YOUR SHOT!

The tavern has a pool table in the rear. Some patrons actually were playing pool.

Meanwhile, all is not serene on the topless front.

A waitress employed in a midtown cocktail lounge announced Friday night formation of what she called "The Society to Prevent the Defamation of Cocktail Waitresses."

Carol Marriecini, 21, said she organized the group "in protest against the invasion of topless cocktail waitresses."

Said Miss Marriecini: "How can I write to my mother and tell her I am working as a cocktail waitress now? Our good name is being ruined."

Probe Urged Into Executions

TORONTO (CP)—The Canadian Civil Liberties Association today urged that a commission investigate the execution of two German soldiers at the end of the Second World War while they were under the charge of Canadians.

A statement issued by the association said: "We feel that the issue is a significant one and that it is not being given adequate consideration by the Canadian government."

"There remains a great deal of doubt and inaccuracy concerning the actual event and a reluctance to either obtain or disclose the necessary facts."

"As a result, the Canadian Civil Liberties Association recommends the establishment of a commission to ascertain the facts and to consider any relevant legal action."

'Hot Line' Links Moscow And Paris

PARIS (AP)—France and Russia Wednesday signed an agreement for a "hot line" to provide instant communication between the Elysee Palace and the Kremlin. Decision to set up the open telephone line was made during President de Gaulle's visit to Moscow last June.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

FOR TOMORROW

Generous planetary influences continue to smile upon all your affairs. In job and financial matters, new ventures, launched now, give high promise of success and, along personal lines, domestic, social and sentimental interests should prove unusually pleasant.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY

If tomorrow is your birthday, your horoscope indicates a productive year, but a great deal will depend upon your cooperation with superiors, partners and business associates. As of early last week, you entered an excellent financial period — one which will last from four to five weeks. Next good cycles for monetary concerns: The first three weeks of January, the first 10 days of February, early July, mid-August, next September and October. Don't offset gains, however, by indulging in extravagance or risking assets through speculation — especially during March, the first two weeks of April, in mid-May or in July, friends and associates next November. Best periods for erally.

Job advancement: The weeks between now and December 20th, also during the latter half of January, throughout May, August, September and the first two weeks in October.

Where personal matters are concerned, don't look for any exciting development in sentimental affairs for the balance of 1966, but 1967 will offer propitious periods for new romance and/or marriage in January, May and August. Domestic concerns should run smoothly for most of the year, but be careful to avoid friction in close circles during May and/or June. Except for short trips, travel does not seem to be much of a part on your agenda during the coming year, but if you do want to make a longer journey, the most auspicious period will occur between July and September of next year.

A child born on this day will be endowed with lofty ambitions and a shrewd mind, but will have to curb tendencies toward being sharp-spoken with family, friends and associates next November. Best periods for erally.

TRY AND STOP ME By Bennett Cerf

WHEN THE LATE Sherman Billingsley's Stork Club was the place in Manhattan for "in" people, there was nothing, recalls Earl Blackwell, that could disturb Sherman's gentlemanly aplomb.

Once Ernest Hemingway picked up a twelve-dollar tab at Table Number One and offered in payment a check for $150,000 he had received that day from the movie makers of "For Whom the Bell Tolls," Billingsley pocketed the check without blinking an eye and remarked casually, "Can you wait a few minutes for your change?"

They'll never stop telling stories about the New York Mets' original first baseman, Marv Throneberry. Arthur Daley recalls a day when Marv handed out a triple with the score tied in the ninth inning then was called out for failing to touch first base. Manager Casey Stengel came roaring out of the dugout to protest. "Save your breath," advised the umpire. "He didn't touch second base either."

A race track aficionado judged the owner of a nag about to win his first race on a local track and asked, "Can this horse of yours run a mile and a half?" The owner responded, "He probably can if you don't mind waiting for him."

GOP Breakthrough Poses Dual Threat To LBJ Rule

WASHINGTON (AP)—The impact of a mid-term Republican breakthrough in Tuesday's U.S. election offers a fresh threat not only to President Johnson's legislative program but possibly to his re-election in 1968.

While the Republican party was surging to above-average gains in the U.S. House of Representatives in the non-presidential year balloting, it also was netting from the Democrats eight governors' offices.

This cemented Republican governors into political power bases in at least 25 states which will cast 290 electoral votes two years from now—17 in excess of the 270 needed to elect a president.

The fact that Republicans will control at least half of the governorships in the next two years doesn't mean they will be able to manoeuvre their states into the Republican column in the 1968 presidential contest.

But the mere fact that their party has broadened its base for attack on Johnson's expected re-election bid certainly will make the Republican nomination much more attractive to potential candidates than it has been during the two doleful years since Barry Goldwater's crushing 1964 defeat by Johnson.

COMPARES WITH HOOVER Johnson's loss of party strength in Congress was far greater than that sustained by any president two years into his first elective term since Republican Herbert Hoover's party lost 61 seats in the 1930 off-year election.

The Republicans nailed down a gain of 47 seats in the House to bring their total to 187. Democrats elected 248 members.

The president, resting at his Texas ranch, had no comment.

on House and governorship losses. He passed the word through an aide that he was somewhat surprised at the Republican gain of three in the Senate.

The Democrats still retain 64-36 control in the Senate. But if the Republicans vote as a unit they now hold power they lacked before to kill by themselves any filibustered legislation, where two-thirds majority is needed.

Richard M. Nixon, former Republican vice-president whom Johnson sharply attacked a few days before the election, said results of Tuesday's voting were "the sharpest rebuff of a president in a generation."

SEES 'LBJ BACKLASH' Goldwater said Republican victories were the result of an "LBJ backlash."

There was evidence of what might be called "anti-Johnson" sentiment in areas as widely separated as Florida and California.

Both of these states elected Republican governors opposed to Johnson's Great Society programs.

Actor Ronald Reagan, who furnished the Republicans with a glittering victory in the California governor's race, attributed his success largely to discontent over what he called excessive welfare and government costs, as well as the loss of local government responsibility.

In his own state of Texas, Johnson's prestige failed to halt the re-election of Republican Senator John G. Tower over Attorney General Waggoner Carr, favored both by the president and his good friend, Governor John Connally. Democrats also lost two Texas House seats to the Republicans.

The president's labor allies took a thumping in Michigan. Governor George Romney, asked after winning a third term when he might make a decision on the possibility of seeking the Republican presidential nomination, replied with a smile: "I will let you know."

The news was generally bad for Johnson's party in the Middle West.

Republican Charles H. Percy, elected senator in Illinois, promptly figured in speculation about 1968 Republican presidential and vice-presidential possibilities. But the 47-year-old industrialist said: "I look forward to staying with my new job. I have no plans for 1968 or 1972."

Republicans reclaimed the governor's office in Minnesota, home state of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, the Democrats' most active campaigner. Humphrey conceded that internal strife hurt Minnesota's Democratic - Farmer - Labor party, but predicted the party he helped form in the 1940s would bounce back in 1968.

New York Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller's re-election to a third term prompted speculation that he might be interested in again bidding for the presidential nomination. But Rockefeller repeated Wednesday he would not seek the nomination.

The results were not all negative, as far as the president was concerned.

HOW ABOUT YOU?

The early bird looks ahead. He's already planning his winter program. He knows that skilled labour is more plentiful in the snowy months. Service is faster and better. And, he doesn't find himself in a rush come Spring.

Why not follow his lead. Line up all those repair and renovation jobs and have them done this winter — repairs to cars, outboard motors, household appliances, lawn and garden equipment... furniture reupholstering, rug and drape cleaning... installations of and repairs to plumbing, electrical or air conditioning systems.

You can get a low-interest NHA Home Improvement Loan to help you with the major jobs. Ask your bank about it — and join the ranks of the wise Winterplanners now!
